President's Report.

To the Board of Trustees, Directors and the generous patrons of the Orphan Asylum, Districts Nos. 2, 6 and 7, I. O. B. B.:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:— Again, with the help of the Almighty, we are assembled for the purpose of hearing all that has been accomplished by benevolence and charity in the beloved Institution placed under our care, to examine its condition during the ninth year of its beneficial working, to learn how well the charities of its generous patrons were applied, and to deliberate upon improvements which may tend to increase the sphere of its usefulness, and to further the interests of our trust.

My frequent visits to the Asylum during the past year assured me anew that the officers and teachers in charge were never flagging in the faithful fulfillment of their arduous duties. We render thanks to our worthy Superintendent, Mr. Aufrecht, and to his estimable lady, the Matron, Mrs. Aufrecht, for their care of the Institution and all pertaining to it; to Dr. Rosenwasser for his faithful services and the readiness with which they were performed; to all the teachers connected with the Asylum, who have so well taught in their separate branches and at the same time so ably assisted the Superintendent and Matron in the discharge of their manifold duties.

The Buildings and Grounds have improved in appearance upon previous years. The inmates were used to greet me with frank and open countenances, looking the very picture of health and robustness. Thank God, this ninth year has been, with the exception of two losses, which we mourn, a year of general good health for the inmates of our Institution, which speaks volumes for the good physical care bestowed on the children. They are, on an average, polite among themselves as well as to strangers, and wherever they are known they enjoy the reputation of well-behaved children. The longer they live in the Institution, the more their attachment grows toward their home, its managing officers and Trustees.

Among the vast number of boys and girls who were at the proper age discharged from the Institution, are, I am sorry to say, some who did not turn out exactly as we would wish, but the great majority of them promise fair to be successful in the various pursuits chosen by them, either mechanical, commercial or professional; and the day is not far distant when we shall be able to point with pride upon a multitude of worthy men and women who claim our Orphan Asylum as their parental home.

In this ninth year a great step forward has been made toward increasing the usefulness of the Institution, by adding to it an industrial branch in the shape of a shoe-shop, for such boys who, having quit school, wish to learn this particular trade. In the benefit springing from this Department not only the boys share—who, besides learning a good trade, lay up their wages during the time of their apprenticeship—but also the Asylum itself saves during the year a respectable amount in the item of shoes, as you will learn from the report of the Committee on Industries, to which I draw your kind attention. It is principally to the good education and the thorough mental and moral training which our inmates receive that I attribute the great number of applications for admission which come in at every meeting. I would, therefore, kindly but urgently request all Trustees, Directors and Local Committees to discriminate well before they recommend and support an application. Our By-Laws are very clear on this subject, and entitle only poor and homeless orphans to the benefit of the Asylum.

The revenues of our Asylum, though not nearly as large as in former years, when prosperity smiled all over our beloved country, were yet, thanks to the kind hearts and open pockets of our generous patrons, sufficient to meet the current expenses. But it behooves us, Trustees and Directors, to endeavor to raise the amount of our income above our expenses, and swell gradually from year to year our sinking fund, which must eventually become the best and most reliable source of our income; and I refer you to the Reports of our Treasurer and Finance Secretary. In conclusion, I tender my heartfelt thanks to you, my co-laborers in this work of charity, for your untiring zeal and sincere devotion to our noble cause, and to our generous patrons for their material aid, which enable us to carry out our good purpose, and invoke the Almighty that His blessings may continue to rest upon our beloved Institution. Amen.

Most respectfully,

A. AUB, President.

SUPERINTENDENT'S NINTH ANNUAL REPORT.

---

CLEVELAND, O., October 1, 1877.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees and Directors of the Orphan Asylum, Districts Nos. 2, 6 and 7, I. O. B. B.:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—Even if it would not be one of my duties to submit to you at the end of the year an annual report, I would for my own satisfaction undergo the pleasant task of letting pass before my mind's eye, and noting down the various incidents that happened, the difficulties I had to contend with, the improvements which were set on foot for the amelioration of the mental and physical condition of our inmates, and the results which were achieved in our Institution during the year; for in this way alone I am enabled to draw a correct comparison between the achievements of the year just passed and those of previous years, which will serve me as a true guide for the future.

The number of orphans so increased and kept our Institution filled to its utmost capacity, that no new applicant could be admitted before an old inmate, from some cause or other, made a vacancy for him. The present number of our inmates is 217, which is very near the average for the whole year.

Their ages vary from 5 to 16 years, a little in excess of former years, on account of the Industrial Department, to which boys find admittance only after they have gone through such a grade of school as their natural capacities will permit.

The following in a schedule of their ages :

The vast number of orphans is composed of the different quotas of almost all the States belonging to the three Districts; Nos. 2, 6 and 7, I. O. B. B., which are respectively larger or smaller according to the Jewish population of each State :

Though these children were born and raised in different latitudes, stretching from the upper Lakes to the Gulf, and varying in climate from the long and severe winters of the north-western plains to the evergreen fields of a southern sky, where snow is scarcely known, they soon became acclimatized, and never, to my knowledge, suffered in health in consequence of changing the Asylum with their former homes.

The general health of our inmates during this year has been, thank God, as usual, very fair. From January till July we had not a sick child, but in the first quarter there were three cases of scarletina, and in the fourth quarter one case of inflammation of the bowels. Diphtheria and croup, the terrible scourges of the children in our city during last winter, spared our Institution, which, under the protection of the Almighty, the Father of the orphans, enjoyed perfect immunity from any disease during the sickliest part of the year.

However, it is with profound grief and deep sorrow that I have to chronicle the death of two of our larger girls, the one aged 15 and the other  $13\frac{1}{2}$  years. Both died of consumption; the former on October 12, 1876, after being confined to her bed two months; the latter breathed her last on September 24, 1877, having been laid up but four days, though she commenced to show symptoms and gradually declined since a year ago.

To our physician, Dr. M. Rosenwasser, our thanks are due for his prompt attendance and the judicious treatment which he afforded to our sick; and our Matron deserves much credit for the more than motherly care and tender affection with which she tried to alleviate the sufferings of our patients, and for the prompt and anxiously accurate execution of the Doctor's orders, to which I, in a great part, attribute the speedy recovery of our sick children.

The education of our orphans, which I indeed consider the most essential object of our Institution, is American and Jewish at the same time.

But these two trees of knowledge, notwithstanding their being grafted on one stem and having their boughs and branches interwoven in each other, enjoy a healthy growth, they green and blossom luxuriantly and promise sound and delectable fruit.

All our inmates, with but few exceptions of extreme dullness or laziness, have advanced to higher grades after undergoing a strict examination in every one of their studies.

The following is the course of study pursued in the different grades of our home-school, and the various pensa taught in them during the last year by the Superintendent and four teachers, Mr. A. Steinschneider, Miss Hannah Bloch, Miss A. Royce and Miss M. Myerfeldt:

From this grade the brighter scholars pass to the B, and the weaker pupils advance to the C Grammar grade of the Public Schools, where they continue their secular education, and are taught Hebrew, Biblical History and Catechism at the Home.

That portion of our inmates which attended the Public Schools were divided, in regard to their home instruction, into two classes.

Hebrew, Class B.—Two and a half lessons a week taught by Mr. Steinschneider. Translation of Pentateuch, Genesis, chapters 37, 40, 41, 42, 43 and 44. Review of the regular verb; the noun, pronoun and preposition completed. Class A—Two and a half lessons by the Superintendent. Biblical History was studied by all the inmates from B Primary upward. Class C—One lesson taught by Mr. Steinschneider, from Abraham to the Judges. Class B—One lesson taught by the Superintendent, from Judges to the Babylonian exile. Class A—One lesson taught by the Superintendent. Post-Biblical, from the Babylonian exile to Herod.

Catechism—One lesson per week by the Superintendent. Selection from Dr. Wise's "Judaism."

Physics—One lesson a week by the Superintendent, to boys only. Common properties of bodies; gravitation; mechanics and hydrostatics.

Needlework, to girls only, two lessons a week, taught by Mrs. Aufrecht, assisted by our Governess, Mrs. Lange. Darning, knitting, sewing, crocheting, tatting and all kinds of embroidery.

Drawing was taught once a week to three different classes by Prof. M. Liebich.

Music and Singing, Class B, comprising the three lowest grades of school, is taught twice a week by Mr. Steinschneider. Class A comprising the upper grades, were taught twice a week by Prof. F. Georgie.

Gymnastics and other bodily exercises were not practiced at regular fixed hours, from want of a special teacher, still the boys often exercised on the parallel bar, the rack and the springboard; occasionally they had a military drill exercise under the supervision of the Superintendent.

The last-named exercise was limited to the mere rudiments of the soldier's drill, sufficient, however, to enable the children to move, when necessary, in large bodies from one place to another, in a decent and orderly manner.

Our Library, now consisting of 500 volumes, partly of pure juvenile books and partly of fine classical literature, affords all our inmates, except the very smallest, a fine opportunity during vacation, and at other times, when their school lessons are not very urgent, to cultivate a taste for literature and to acquire ease in expressing themselves.

The Discipline in the Asylum was, as usual, easily maintained, and resembled more that of a good home than of a school.

The inmates are free and easy in their games, or at work on the grounds, or in their play-rooms; and are frank and open when addressed by strangers. Without any visible restriction, they are carefully watched that no harm may befall them.

The morals of the new inmates are somewhat below the general average of children of their age; but the older inmates, I am happy to state, show distinct marks of improvement.

The abandonment of their former associations, the wholesome atmosphere of their new surroundings, where nothing indecent is tolerated, every falsehood and wicked act detected and reprimanded; the lectures from the pulpit on every Sabbath, teaching them what is right and what is wrong, what is worthy of imitation and what is to be shunned,—all these influences tend to improve the morals of our children. But there are yet other agents, that greatly assist in the good work, and these are the Literary Societies, which, by my suggestion, were called into existence about three years ago, and are since then flourishing among the older inmates. The boys' society is called "The Orphans' Literary Union," and the girls named theirs

"The Orphan Girls' Literary Society." Both have the same tendency, viz.: moral and intellectual culture. They have their regular officers and by-laws, transact business according to parliamentary rules, and watch carefully over the morals of their members. I make it a point not to interfere, in the least, with these societies, and even decline to act as referee in case of a dispute, that at least, in this one respect, the inmates may feel untrammelled and act fully as freely as any boys or girls who share a home with their parents, and are not under the control of an Institution.

But still I am an unobserved observer, who keeps track of all their movements, and it is indeed gratifying to see how manly and womanly these children act, how conscientiously they uphold their laws, and how nicely they progress, morally and intellectually.

Our Industrial Department, now a little over a year old, is in splendid condition and gives much satisfaction. We have at present four apprentices in our shoeshop, who, together with their master shoemaker, are fully able to supply all the demands of the Asylum in the shoe line, and promise to have very shortly some spare time to do fancy and outside work.

The Asylum is certainly no loser in this new enterprise, as the following balance sheet and a comparison with the shoe expenses of former years will exhibit:

	EXPENDITURES	INCOME BY WORK RETURNED.
First Quarter.....	$ 249 69	$ 306 07
Second Quarter.....	340 29	365 95
Third Quarter.....	240 88	311 80
Fourth Quarter.....	252 27	385 65
Total... ..	$1083 13	against $1369 47
Which shows a net gain of.....		$ 286 34
Furniture and Tools worth .....		75 00
Make a total gain of.....		$ 361 34

Setting aside this pecuniary advantage which accrued to our Institution from the shoeshop, the benefits which the apprentices derive from it, are of far greater importance. Continuing under the wholesome influence of their fostering home, they remain intact from the company of corrupt youth, which lurks at every corner and poisons the good morals of the unsuspecting young man who happens to be thrown in its way. Saving all their wages, and merely spending the little allowance granted them weekly as a reward for their industry and good conduct, our apprentices become inured to parsimony without falling into the extreme of sordid niggardliness.

Thus our Institution has widened the sphere of its usefulness in the past year, and with the same active spirit and energy which has so far characterized your administration and the liberal support which has hitherto so freely and abundantly been provided by our generous patrons, our Asylum will, under the protection of the Almighty, surely not only continue its noble work, but will gain in strength from year to year, and become gradually more and more powerful as a benefactress of the poor and homeless orphans. Most respectfully submitted by

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees and Directors of the Jewish Orphan Asylum :

Although we have to report the sad death of two of the larger girl orphans during the past year, yet we can not but be thankful to Providence for the remarkable good health enjoyed by the inmates of the Asylum.

During the First Quarter the patient, to whom reference had been made in last year's report as lying in a hopeless condition, died after much suffering. We had also three cases of scarletina, two of which were light, and the third was complicated with nephritis and dropsy, but finally recovered after a tedious illness, lasting two months. For the next half year we were comparatively free from physical afflictions. Two cases of abscess, each one of tonsillitis, conjunctivitis, rheumatism and malarial spasms, constituted the bulk of our patients. Within the last quarter we have had a boy quite sick with enteritis, who is now entirely recovered ; and a girl about thirteen years of age, who early in the spring manifested symptoms of incipient pulmonary tuberculosis ; she gradually failed during the summer, and finally succumbed to the fatal disease. Prof. Dr. Weber had kindly seen this case at my request and fully coincided in the diagnosis.

The nursing and solicitude of our esteemed Matron deserve special commendation.

Respectfully submitted,

DR. M. ROSENWASSER.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 30, 1877.

Respectfully,

October 10, 1877.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees and Directors of the Orphan Asylum, Districts Nos. 2, 6 and 7, I. O. B. B.:

CLEVELAND, O., July 1, 1877.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned members of your Committee, appointed in your January meeting to report upon the necessity of extending the capacity of our Institution, by erecting an additional building or buildings, and upon the most suitable locality, beg leave to report the following:

First. Long experience has taught us that the present accommodations of our Asylum, vast as they are, do not suffice to give shelter to all the orphans entitled to it, and that for the last three years some applications had to be laid over at every meeting for want of room. Hence, there can be no doubt left in the mind of any member of the Board that the capacity of the Asylum has to be enlarged if we wish to carry out to its full extent the broad principle upon which our charity is based, viz.: That all poor orphans in the Districts Nos. 2, 6 and 7 have a claim to the benefit of our Institution, no matter whether their fathers were B'nai B'rith or not.

Second. In our estimation, the most proper place to erect such building or buildings is on the grounds belonging to our Institution; for,

Firstly. We can save the expense which must incur in procuring a suitable location, should we decide to build an additional Institution in some other city.

Secondly. We can save part of the expenses in salaries, provisions, etc., when we so enlarge the capacity of the Institution, in that it can still be kept under one superintendency and management, as we shall exhibit with little calculation:

At present, with the number of 215 inmates, our expenses average $145 a child per annum. Extending the capacity of the Institution to 365 inmates, the average, on account of quantity, would be reduced to $120 a child per annum; the expense in toto would be $43,800, and adding $600 for Assistant Superintendent, $1,200 for three teachers, $400 for Assistant Matron, and $600 for additional servants, the whole expense would amount to $46,600. If we calculate upon two separate Institutions, then the Cleveland Asylum, with 215 inmates, costs $31,475, elsewhere with 150 inmates, $21,233 (judging from our report of 1871); the two Institutions would cost $52,711, an excess over $6000, per annum.

In case it be decided that the additional building or buildings shall be erected on the grounds of our present Institution, we, the undersigned, would recommend to erect on the southern line of the Asylum Grounds, just opposite the rear of the main building, a spacious three-story school-house, 70 feet wide, by 60 feet deep, to contain two play-rooms in the basement, four school-rooms on the first floor, four school-rooms on the second floor, and a hall 60 by 70 feet on the third floor.

Such a building would, with the proper arrangements in the main building, enable us to accommodate 365 inmates, and would not cost more than from $13,000 to $14,000, while it would cost at least $35,000 to erect a separate Institution large enough to shelter 150 inmates.

Most respectfully submitted,

J. ROHRHEIMER,

A. HART,

A. WIENER.

WHEREAS, Our Orphan Asylum is filled to its utmost capacity, and, in order to accommodate all worthy applicants, it would either have to be enlarged by an additional building here, or by erecting an additional Branch Institution at some other point; and,

WHEREAS, Our laws provide, that the Board of Trustees "shall not have power to make any permanent changes or additions or alterations in the grounds or buildings, involving an expense of over one thousand dollars, without direct permission of the Grand Lodges;" be it Resolved, That this subject be submitted by the Executive Trustees of this Orphan Asylum to the Grand Lodges of Districts Nos. 2, 6 and 7 for their consideration and decision. And, with this view, to report to the Grand Lodges the following facts: At our Quarterly Meeting, in January, 1877, we were again compelled to reject, or to defer at least, applications for the admission of orphans for no other reason than want of room; thereupon the following resolution was offered (by Bro. A. E. Frankland):

"Resolved, That a Committee be appointed by this Board to make a full report, at the next July meeting, of either building an additional house upon the present site, or upon a new one selected for this purpose, or to ascertain if the present number of inmates shall be the maximum of the number to be cared for; and to report such details in full as may be necessary to meet this question, which must at no far distant day present itself."

This resolution was referred to a Committee of five members of this Board. At our Quarterly Meeting, in July, 1877, the Committee made a detailed report, which was adopted by this Board, and which is in substance as follows:

First. That the capacity of the Asylum has to be enlarged if we desire to carry out the broad principle of charity, upon which it is based, to its full extent, viz.: That all our poor orphans in Districts Nos. 2, 6 and 7 have a claim on the benefits of our Institution, whether their fathers were B'nai B'rith or not.

Second. That it is by far better, more advisable and more economical, to enlarge our Institution by additional buildings on the grounds of our Orphan Asylum, at Cleveland, than by establishing an additional or branch institution elsewhere, showing by many details that while the aggregate annual expenses must necessarily increase with the number of inmates, the cost of each child would be reduced; and the Committee, therefore, recommends to erect on the southern line of our Asylum Grounds a three-story school-house, 70 feet wide by 60 feet deep, which, with the proper arrangements in the present main building, would not cost more than fourteen thousand ($14,000) dollars, and would enable us to accommodate thereafter 365 orphan inmates.

SOLOMON LEVI.

ABRAHAM HART.

ISIDOR BUSH,

A. WIENER,

JAC. ROHRHEIMER.

Motion was made that the Committee on Buildings and Grounds be empowered to expend not over $1,000 for the purpose of getting hot water as steam heating in the Asylum.
